THE GAMBLERS"=A CONSPIRACY OF WALL STREET :::

The Story of Charles Klein's Thrilling Play.

Novelized by J. W. McConaughy.

CHAPTER V.—Continued.

John M.—Continued.

John

George Cawper with mitsappropriation of the funds of the Emerson National liank.

Tourwin arose, walked around its deak, picked up the warrant and put the make on his deak. Then he turned and regarded the lose than half-ochar and shaden for the color, and shading him roughly by the shoulder, said:

"Here! Drink this, Cowper, and you live door for several rounds."

The suffering man looked up with a sized supression, and took the glass in both lands. They shook so that he spilled he water on his coat, and barwin could hear his teeth rattle against the fim. But the water revived him.

"Now, buck up? said Darwin, with a show of rough kindness. "You're not in Allanta yet, and you have will be fyun have any sense."

"What do-you mean! That warrant should appeal the house and I knowledge your chain of banks, and I knowledge you over capital of you have not the investment of the post to have a post to have a post to have a post to have a post to hand. You're hear to have a post to hand, and the post to have a post to hand. I have been the remained produced and post the projection by the Alford projection by the A wan defiance in every line of her figure, from the fall of the graceful skirt even to the period curve of the wanderful lips. And in her dark ares the battle lanterns were lit!

CHAPTER VII.

the with my attitude." he went on bittery. "We seldons garee on anything. But I am making the investigation, and I am in a position to know who they are. However, he glanced at his waket, "that is not the point. I've just time is heavy you at the house."

However, he glanced at his waket, "that is not the point. I've just time is heavy you at the house."

We want to have a constituting home—with me?" she used unchanged to the most investigation. It he mind was still numb from the shock.

"Ne," was the short answer. "I must go to Washington at midnight. In the meantime, I've an important conference to-night, and one with the Attorney General early to-morrow. He determined to enforce the law and haz retained me to help him. These people are to be rooted unt-exterminated—made an example of of course. I need not reily out its means great political advancement for me. If allowed the convicting herm—people the Alexander of the course of the short of the short friends!

Mor looked at him as she might have been considered to the local country of the most of the following the local country of th

